God Is with Us Along the Way

What might the Season of LENT teach us about the high and low places of personal experience? How might the Season of Lent lead us to renewal in our walk with Jesus? Agreeably, we might have heard the saying that without the death and the suffering of Jesus, without the grave, we could not have Easter, we could not have life. That is all good and well and we know it to be the cornerstone of our faith, which does not mean we will not struggle and experience depression. There is nothing shameful about the millions of Americans that face depression every day. Still, we make the effort and believe that God is always walking with rain or shine and we pray for better days. We pray for break throughs and getting better. We pray that God will shine a light on this season of loss and betrayal with the hope with every breath we take. I have often said from the pulpit that our faith is about “Faith seeking understanding.” I have always loved the framing of that phrase coined by Anselm of Canterbury (1033-1109), and that as God surly walks and breaths in us, so does the inspiration to dive deeper in faith with confidence continually allowing us to hold the hands of our maker. Our ultimate concern for our relationship with God is once again invested in this “unmoved Mover of the Universe” (Thomas Aquinas; God as first cause). That points beyond us but includes us at the same time. It provides context for the way the Word of God that became flesh among us is both transcendent and immanent at the same time.

Look at our upcoming scriptures appointed to be used for our worship services during the season of LENT. The Sunday of Transfiguration of our Lord on February 15th (Mathew 17: 1 – 9) and the Ash Wednesday service on February 18th 2026 (Mathew 6: 1-6, 12-14) form a contrast of God’s goodness and human pretense that masquerades as righteous living and worship.

Let’s attempt to connect walking with God and our Lenten Journey, traveling together in faith in Jesus Christ’s unconditional and unmerited grace and love, with our personal stories of faith. So, I share with you one individual Christian Gentlemen that has influenced my faith walk with Jesus.

Klaus Penzel Ph.D. was my professor of Christian history while in seminary, and he shared his humility and love and personal story that I now share with you. Klaus Penzel was raised in Germany in the home of a Lutheran pastor. As a young man during World War 2, The Third Reich in Germany forced him and millions of his countrymen to serve in the Army. Dr. Klaus Penzel while engaged in combat, had been captured by the U.S. Army and became a prisoner of war. He was then sent to the United States as a P.O.W. After the war he was released and repatriated to Germany. Later he experienced a calling to become an ordained Lutheran pastor like his dad, and he chose to attend a seminary in the U.S.A. He eventually earned his Ph.D. and gained full citizenship from his status as an immigrant student. He eventually became a full tenured professor at S.M.U. and an American Citizen.

Dr. Penzel’s firsthand experience of a brutal war lends itself to the calm and restoration of the 23rd Psalm when it says, “I will walk through the valley of the shadow of death and fear no evil”. Some say of the present times, that we are living in the End Times of history, I say bring it on... let the apocalypse usher a new day in the Kingdom of God on earth, and I might add “Keep your Powder dry”, who knows who Russia will invade next.

In Christ,
Kent

Our mission is to become a community of believers and followers of God; the Creator, Savior, and Holy Spirit. We gather to worship and become stewards and disciples who express our faith with others, nurture one another, and are in ministry with Christ.
